

Siemens VAIUK over the years have had many overseas projects in which skilled mechanical / fluid engineers are required, as these are specialists we require a professional company in which this service can be provided, we have found G & T Associates to be able to accommodate our specific needs in the resourcing of mechanical / fluid engineers on a long term or short term basis. Siemens VAI UK will continue to be a major supplier of equipment to the steel sector and therefore the continuing relationship with G & T Associates is important to enhance both individuals and company reputations.
